Many Boston area interior designers and architects will be traveling to Chicago this summer to attend the 2011 NeoCon show. It's North America's largest design exposition for design professionals.

NeoCon take place in Chicago's Merchandise Mart

Attendees can expect to see the latest in art, architectural products, casegoods, furniture, lighting and much more. Keynote speakers will include Amy Wells, who was the set decorator for the Mad Men television series, as well as Sex and the City, Clueless, and other films and TV series. Architectural Digest Editor in Chief will also be speaking, as well as actor and environmental activist Ed Begley, Jr.

The American Society of Interior Designers (ASID) will also be prominent at the show. The ASID will be offering special arrangements for entrance to Chicago's Merchandise Mart Design Center.

NeoCon happens June 13 – 15 in Chicago. Go the NeoCon website for more information.

And when you return, energized, and brimming with new ideas for you interior design projects here in Boston, please stop by the M-Geough showroom at the Boston Design Center. We carry an exceptionally diverse group of furniture and lighting manufacturers, and we're proud of the relationships we've developed in the New England design community over the years.
