

The Washington Post

Sales Talk

Sample sale at Washington Design Center

Thursday, February 11, 2010

The sample sale will include furniture by Rist. (Rist)

-- The Washington Design Center is open to the public Saturday for its biannual sample sale, where furniture, rugs, lighting and decorations will be up to 75 percent off regular prices. About a dozen of the center's more than 60 showrooms -- including those for Henredon, Pugrant Associates and Rist -- are participating. The sample sale is open to the trade on Thursday and Friday; doors are open to everyone Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Admission is free. The Washington Design Center is at 300 D St. SW. Call 202-646-6100 or visit <http://www.dcdesigncenter.com>.

-- Emily Langer